Photography Hints and Tips

Portrait

This is a photographic portrait of a person who is posing for the camera. The subject should be making eye contact with the viewer but this is not a hard and fast rule. The picture should show the subject's 'character and mood', whether it's happy, sad, serious, funny, etc. Lighting is very important and wherever possible natural light should be used. Flash can be used as a fill in if the subject is in shadow but try to avoid direct flash as this produces 'red eye' in the subject, looks unsightly and not suitable in competition. Keep the pose simple and comfortable and avoid fussy or messy backgrounds. Avoid objects behind that look as if they are growing out of the subject's head. Chopping off part of a person in the photo is also undesirable unless you are using tight framing and only want the subject's head and shoulders in the photo.

Group Study

All of the previous comments apply. The object of this class is to produce a posed portrait of a group of people. Like a family or a wedding group. Again pay attention to background and lighting, don't have your subjects squinting into bright sunlight.

Pet or Animal Portrait

All of the rules that apply to humans apply to pets/animals. The pet/animal should fill as much of the picture frame as possible and again, check out your background for anything that will distract the viewer (and the judge) away from the subject. Try to get down to their level for best results.

Landscape and Study of Water

The object of the exercise is to try to convey to your viewers the things that interested you in the landscape in the first place. Composition is very important in a good landscape or study of water as is lighting. The time of day can turn a good scene into a flat one, early morning or late afternoon is usually the best, avoid midday sun. One of the hardest things to do in a photograph is to portray the slope of a hill since a photograph converts a three dimensional image to a two dimensional one. Have a look at a book on the subject for some ideas or ask a professional photographer.

Remember that the scene that attracted you will have to dominate the picture in order to interest others, so exclude all other distractions. If you are taking a photo of the horizon in a seascape make sure it is level, many good compositions have been penalized for tilted horizons.
